Kelly Seeks To Intimidate
Witnesses In Oklahoma
Kidnaping Trial

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla.,
Sept. 21.—George "Machine Gun"
Kelly today gave the Charles F.
Urschel kidnaping trial a sinister sensationalism in the form of one of the most viciously-worded death threats ever fung from the underworld.

Kelly mailed a letter from Chicago to Urschel threatening not only to kill him but to do away with his family "immediately after the trial."
"You are living on borrowed time now," Kelly said on one part of the missive.

He referred to Urschel as a "sap"
and asked:
"Are you ignorant enough to think the government can guard you forever?"

Aids Prosecution.
Urschel, the millionaire oil man who was kidnaped and held for the record ransom of $200,000, has been active in aiding the United States government in the prosecution of his abductors.

Twelve persons, one of them a woman, Mrs. R. G. Shannon, are on trial in federal court charged with the Urschel kidnaping. Two others indicted are fugitives—Kelly and his titian-haired wife, Katherine Kelly.
Kelly's wife is Mrs. Shannon's daughter.

Among the defendants are two of the most notorious "bad men" in the country—Harvey J. Bailey and Albert Bates.

Bates, according to Urschel and other witnesses who testified at the trial, was the man who accompanied "Machine Gun" Kelly to the Urschel home in Oklahoma City on the night of July 22 last when the oil man was "snatched." Kelly, witnesses said in identifying him from a photo.

Pa New noted that some motor-at the primaries Tuesday.

Dear Pa New:
One would think that the Fox squirrel would be secure of himself in climbing among the trees, but it is not so.

A few days ago at Gaston Park a big Fox squirrel misjudged his jump and fell about sixty feet from one of the big Purple oaks that are to be found in the park.

This big Fox squirrel fell to the ground with such a force that it broke its back, this squirrel was a big fellow, one of about sixty-five squirrels that inhabit the Gaston beautiful playground.

The Fox squirrel weighed very near two pounds.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 21.—A melodramatic touch was given to the Charles F. Urschel kidnaping trial in federal court today when Fred Coleman, son of T. M. Coleman, a 72-year-old farmer of Stratford, Okla., marched into the courtroom with his father and pleaded with Judge Edgar S. Vaughn to be allowed to make a five minute talk.
"I want to speak for five minutes
—the most important five minutes of my life," the younger Coleman declared.

The jury looked puzzled. So did the judge. Spectators craned their necks.

Judge Vaughn refused the request and ordered the younger Coleman, who is about 35, taken into custody.
Coleman was hustled out of the courtroom by armed deputy marshals.

Coming on the heels of the receipt by Urschel of a death threat from George "Machine Gun" Kelly, a fugitive gunman wanted for the Urschel kidnaping, the dramatic ap-courtroom created a sensation.

tograph, carried a machine gun on that occasion.
Kelly's death threat letter was addressed to "Ignorant Charles" and proceeded in this vein:

Threats in Letter.
"Just a few lines to let you know that I am getting my plans laid to destroy your so-called mansion, and you and your family immediately after this trial. And, young fellow, I guess you've begun to realize your serious mistake.
"Are you ignorant enough to think the government can guard you forever?"

"I gave you credit for more sense than that, and figured you thought too much of your family to jeopardize them as you have, but if you don't look out for them, why should we? I dislike hurting the innocent, but I told you exactly what would happen, and you can bet $200,000 more everything I said will be true. You are living on borrowed time now."

"You know that the Shannon family are victims of circumstances the same as you was."
"You don't seem to mind prosecuting the innocent, neither will I have any conscience quins over brutally murdering your family."

"The Shannons have put the heat on, that I don't desire to see them prosecuted as they are innocent and I have a much better method of settling with them. As far as the guilty being punished, you would probably have lived the rest of your life in peace had you tried only the guilty, but if the Shannons are convicted, I look out, and God help you, for he is the only one that will be able to do you any good."

Shannons On Trial.
Three Shannons are on trial—Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Shannon and their 21-year-old son, Armon. It was at the Shannon ranch near Paradise, Texas, that Urschel was held in captivity for more than a week, it was there Bailey was captured a fortnight later in a raid staged by the federal authorities.

The Shannon ranch, according to United States Attorney Herbert K. Hyde, was a hideaway for underworld figures.

Kelly's letter to Urschel continued: "In the event of my arrest I've already formed an outfit to take care of and destroy you and yours the same as I was there. I am spending your (underscored) money to have you and your family killed—nice—eh."

"You are bucking people that have cash, planes, bombs and unlimited connections both here and abroad. I have friends in Oklahoma City that know every move and every plan you make, and you are still too dumb to figure out the finger man there."

"If my brain was no larger than yours the government would have had me long ago, as it is I am drinking good beer and will yet see you and your family like I should have left you at first—stone dead."

"I don't worry about Bates and Bailey. They will be out for the ceremonies—your slaughter."

"Now, s.p.—it is up to you, if the Shannons are convicted, you can get you another rich wife in hell, because that will be the only place you can use one."

"Adios, smart one, your worst enemy, 'Geo. R. Kelly'."

"I will put my prints below so you can't say some crank wrote this."

(Kelly's fingerprints were inserted here) "Give Keenan (underscored) my regards and tell him maybe he would like to meet the owner of the above."

"See you in hell."

Kelly's death threat to Urschel was turned over by Urschel to Joseph Bud Kennan, assistant United States attorney general who came here from Washington to aid the prosecution at the trial.

Keenan characterized the Kelly letter as "a cheap attempt by a rat underworld character to intimidate Urschel and his associates."

Finger Prints Tally
Washington, Sept. 21.—Finger prints on a death threat letter mailed to Charles F. Urschel, Oklahoma oil man and recent victim of kidnapers, definitely fixed the identity of the writer as Charles "Machine Gun" Kelly, sought by the government for a number of crimes, Attorney General Cummings said today.

The fingerprints had been examined in Oklahoma and later by the identification division of the justice department.
Cummings declared Kelly would be captured in time, the government being close on his trail.

There are a lot of Plymouths on the road today whose radiators breast last winter's icy blasts and never thought of freezing.

Those drivers knew that a low-priced, boil-away anti-freeze could cost money before spring. They knew that most so-called "permanent" anti-freezes soon break down.

At the first sign of winter they saved their cars from freezing and rust with Eveready Prestone.

This year, at the new low price of $2.95 a gallon, Eveready Prestone protected a 1933 Plymouth to zero (1½ gallons) costs only $3.72. For other models and makes, see your dealer's chart. It's good for a full winter's driving—25,000 miles or more. Approved by all car manufacturers. Fully guaranteed by National Carbon Co., Inc., New York.

near Stratford, Okla., that the kidnapers changed cars when they had Urschel in captivity.

Threats Are Scented.
Urschel's associates expressed the opinion that underworld friends of Kelly and Kelly himself are trying to intimidate witnesses.

Twelve persons are on trial, including the notorious desperadoes and killers, Harvey J. Bailey and Albert L. Bates, one of the defendants is Kelly's mother-in-law, Mrs. R. G. Shannon of Paradise, Texas, at whose farm Urschel was held after he was "snatched."

When the younger Coleman marched through the crowded courtroom to within a few feet of the jury box just as today's session was called to order, the spectators immediately sensed drama. For days the machine-gun guarded courtroom has been surcharged with tension. Deputy marshals patrol the corridors with machine guns and rifles, challenging everybody.

Judge Vaughn regarded Coleman with astonishment as he launched his plea to be allowed to make a five minute talk.

Hyde objected to the younger Coleman, who had been subpoenaed as a government witness, making any kind of a speech in the presence of the jury.

"I won't allow it," Judge Vaughn declared. "Officers, take this man out."

The general belief was that the Coleman had received a death threat.

Sinister Asides.
Another sidelight to the intense drama going on in the courtroom was given to International News Service by Joseph B. Keenan, assistant United States attorney general, here from Washington to aid in the prosecution.

Keenan all week has been sitting at arm's length from Bates, the desperate defiant, and according to Keenan, Bates has been making "sinister asides" whenever Keenan gets on his feet to say something to the court or the jury.

The situation reached the point where Keenan took the matter up privately with the judge.

Keenan also told "Big Jim" Brown, a United States special officer and a "dead shot," to keep a close eye on Bates and if he makes any false move to "take care of him."

The implication was that Brown would shoot Bates in the courtroom if he precipitated any trouble.

One theory was that Lorraine, a native of Massachusetts, who shipped here February 2 as a seaman on the freighter Delfina, had become involved in a gangster's feud, or perhaps was a victim of mistaken identity.

The original Johanna Smith burned at sea a year ago and police believed the fire was started by rival gambling interests. The fire was used as the basis of a plot for a recent motion picture feature.

A few weeks ago Robert Moody, 24, of Los Angeles, a guest on board the gambling ship City of Panama with another man and two beautiful young women, was beaten to death. Two officers of the ship were indicted and now are awaiting trial for murder.

gallon and the other of 100 gallon capacity, were found. One of the stills was in operation. Liquor found is alleged to have consisted of two 5-gallon cans, 1½ gallons in bottles, and 17 barrels of mash.

Police Testify
Officer Willis G. McMullen testified that he had gone to Castle Hill Mission with Policemen Harry Plimmer and Constable Conners. They found the liquor outfit. Schmidt told them that it did not belong to him, but was the property of two men to whom he had the basement rented. He said that he received $30 per month rent.

Asked if he had searched upstairs McMullen said that he had and had found some liquor in a bottle. Schmidt is alleged to have said to his wife, "Remember, Mama, that's your medicine."

McMullen also stated that while he was guarding Mr. and Mrs. Schmidt, that Schmidt started to talk to his wife in German. McMullen said that he had studied German in high school and remembered enough of it to make out that Schmidt was saying to his wife, "Don't talk."

Don't Talk
They were surprised to find that McMullen understood what they were talking about. On cross examination by Attorney Elder Bryan, McMullen was asked if Schmidt had not said to his wife, "Don't talk until we see an attorney." McMullen said that might have been what was said, but the German words that he was positive of were the words for "Don't talk."

McMullen identified the liquor which had been found in the Schmidt mission. He said that he had taken it to Chemist J. K. Hess to be analyzed.

Other witnesses were Policemen Harry Plimmer, Policewoman Minnie McKibben, City Detective John C. Young, and Constable Conners. The case is still on trial.

TO THE VOTERS

Through your courtesy at the polls on Tuesday I have been named as the Republican nominee for Sheriff of Lawrence county. The only way I know at present to express my gratitude is by saying so, either in person or through the medium of this ad. If I am elected in November I expect to prove my gratitude in my conduct in office.

I also want to express my appreciation of the sportsmanlike conduct of my opponents in the campaign. Never once during the campaign was there any suspicion of poor sportsmanship, and a victory in such a campaign is more satisfactory because of that.

The primary campaign is over. I respectfully ask the support of the citizens at the polls in November.

Face Always a Mass of Itchy Pimples. Healed by Cuticura.

"My face was always a mass of pimples causing terrible disfigurement and I used to get so disgusted that I was unable to go out anywhere. The pimples were red and hard and most always festered. They would itch and when I scratched them they would burn, causing me great suffering. These pimples lasted quite a while until I discovered Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I sent for a free sample which proved successful so I bought more and after using several cakes of Cuticura Soap with the Cuticura Ointment I was healed." BY MARSHALL MASLIN

The Man Who Helped
HENRY WAS sitting in a restaurant eating his dinner, and his glasses kept slipping down his nose. He'd push them up, but down they'd come. When he was sitting straight in his chair, they stayed well enough. But when he bent forward to eat, they'd fall down again. It was annoying, and not only to Henry.

While he was cutting his meat and struggling with his glasses, a pleasant-looking gentleman across the table leaned forward, coughed, smiled apologetically, and said: "If you don't mind, I'd like to fix your glasses for you." Henry was startled and showed his surprise, and the man said: "I can do it; I'm an optometrist."

So Henry handed over his glasses and the man took out his handkerchief and held the side pieces firmly between his hand and used pressure on them carefully, surely, professionally, and said, "Now, I think they will fit." And they did. He knew his business. . . . And when Henry asked him the name of his firm, he wouldn't give it. He wasn't drumming up trade, but it had annoyed him, it had even pained him, to see those glasses sliding down Henry's nose when it was so easy to make them stay firmly in place.

So Henry and the Gentleman-Across-the-Table finished their meals in peace. You know why that man did that, of course? Because he was a craftsman, because he couldn't stand it to see something going wrong that he could fix. All craftsmen are like that. . . . The automobile mechanic suffers when he hears a knock in an engine. . . . The carpenter is angry when he sees slipshod work. . . . The musician is hurt by discords. . . . The newspaperman is annoyed when he reads an inaccurate story of life in a newspaper.

The doctor is aggrieved when he sees people suffering ills that can be cured. . . . The wise man cannot endure that his fellows should live foolishly and dangerously. Every man—I mean particularly every man of our race and spirit—who knows one thing a little better than most of his fellows, do, is unhappy unless he can use that knowledge. And that's why the Gentleman-Across-the-Table had to offer to fix Henry's glasses. . . . He'd have been bothered all day if he hadn't.

SHOULDER YOUR RESPONSIBILITY

You don't like to be held accountable, do you?

You don't want to assume all responsibility for errors. But someone must stand the jar. Why not you, if you are capable of such a position of trust?

You have carried this spirit with you to such an extent that you are losing confidence in yourself. You want someone to OK your work, instead of doing that for others.

If anyone tries to help you with your work, and something goes wrong, you try to make that person partially responsible, don't you?

The world is full of persons who do work in such a way that someone must check up on everything they do, to assure creditable performance.

But it is the ones who are willing to go ahead and stand for results who get the good salaries, and why stay on with the firm when re-employment makes it necessary to cut down on the number of help.

There are comparatively few who are so reliable that none need supervise their work.

If you are low paid in your job, you have no reason for complaint, if you can't be depended upon to put out a superior job and assume responsibility if things go wrong. (Copyright, 1933, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

THE QUICK AND THE DEAD

If trouble frets you, think of this: All earthly trouble dead men miss. They never feel the touch of pain. They know not sunshine or the rain. Cold and indifferent they lie lifeless Though kings in purple robes pass by.

If hard the task, remember this: All tasks the morning's dead must miss. The whispered voices they never hear Nor see the friends who gather near. Though out of doors the children play, Unmoved and undisturbed they'll stay.

If gray the clouds hang overhead They'll be unnoticed by the dead. Only the living hear the storm, Know when the day is cold and warm.

Face doubts and feel the weight of care And rise to burdens they must bear.

To worry and to suffer pain; To feel the chilling autumn rain; To wish and want and plan and scheme, See failure wreck your fondest dream And rise against the odds to strive To prove that you are still alive. (Copyright, 1933, Edgar A. Guest.)

Dear Fred: A couple of our old time acquaintances have purchased themselves a new car. They gave us a ride around several blocks the other evening, just to try it out. "What do you like best about it," they queried at the dumping out point.

"I hardly know," I replied, "it doesn't jolt, seems to drive easy and in fact is a Jim dandy all around. But what is your special feature of admiration?"

Sam lived with us, so many years he became a member of the family, and enjoyed the privilege of taking the top buggy and one of the driving horses every Sunday evening. Sam had a lassy on a farm about two miles away.

One Sunday evening the spirit of devilry took possession of daddy, so he asked for a sheet and strode out to the barn about the time Sam was in the habit of returning. When he heard the carriage wheels approaching, he covered himself with the sheet, and as the carriage turned into the barn he came forward with head bowed and arms waving like wings. The horse started and backed out, and Sam drove out into the road as if the devil was after him. Father took that opportunity to sneak into the house. Sam came in as white as a sheet. "Do you believe in ghosts?" He asked father.

"Certainly not," my innocent father replied. "Why?"

"Well, if that wasn't a ghost in our barn tonight, I'm plumb crazy." "Nonsense, man! People don't come back after they once get away from here," father assured him. But Sam refused to go out to the barn, so father had to drive the horse in and unhitch him, so the joke was on him after all.

Humane Instincts Praised As Multitude Watches Deer

Animal At Watkins Glen, New York, Credited With Traits Which May Point Pathway In Human Struggles

Gathering of thousands to watch a deer which was imprisoned for more than a week on a rocky ledge of a cliff at Watkins Glen, New York, inspires thoughts of humane tendencies in man. Its relation to the advance in the treatment of animals is seen, while the ultimate success of the deer, which had gone there to escape pursuers, finds reflection also in human experience.

"Some persons who pride themselves on being logical," remarks the ROCHESTER TIMES-UNION, "have pointed out that thousands of deer are shot every year on authority of licenses issued by the state. Why, they asked, all this bother about one particular deer? Why didn't a game warden shoot the deer and be done with it? But the park authorities knew their business. They knew thousands of persons were deeply interested in the welfare of that deer. Call it sentimentalism if you like; the fact remains that such feeling is responsible for the great advance in this and other countries in preventing cruelty to animals. And that is a real gain, as those who have traveled in countries where no such advance has been recorded would be the first to testify."

"Everybody is relieved that, after nine days, friendly men helped it to find an escape," testifies the SALT LAKE DESERET NEWS, and that paper makes the contribution to the philosophy of the incident. "Why should the American public be waiting day after day to learn whether a buck has been saved? In the first place there is romance. The deer, mate of the antlered prisoner, had been frightened and fell to her death. Readers piled not only the danger but the loneliness of the stag. There was suspense. Would the deer jump to his death? Would he use the suspension bridge, constructed to save him, or would he succumb alone, frightened and grieving, on the narrow cliff? A deer is a particularly favorable animal for publicity. Its fleetness and beauty in action, its quick sense of danger, its use for food which preceded the dawn of history, and the sport of its chase, have all made it of unusual interest."

"Interest of the whole country to a remarkable degree" is observed by the CHARLESTON (S. C.) EVENING POST, with comment on the tens of thousands of visitors and the efforts made to meet the requirements of the animal. The Evening Post concludes "Thousands of schemes were suggested for releasing it. None availed until, at last, gentle pressure was put upon the animal, to find a way out for itself, which it, thereupon, promptly did, by picking a path down the steep incline and soon making its way into the woods. Perhaps there is a lesson in this incident for the recovery experts. Ingenious devices have been created and many more have been proposed to lure prosperity around that corner where it has been stuck for the past four years. Maybe if it were urged a little by gentle proddings to move out of its retreat it might find a way."

"The strange combination of the humane and the barbarous in human nature," according to the PROVIDENCE JOURNAL, "is continuously puzzling to reflective observers. Here was a wild animal forced into a precarious position while trying to escape from a pursuing pack of dogs. In the flight his mate fell over the cliff and was killed. The stag reached safety on the narrow shelf and apparently there was no way it could escape. Its plight awakened pity. The pity spread throughout that entire region of New York state. In a couple of days the deer became a subject of humane discussion in all the northern Atlantic States. We do not know when in human history a deer ever had so much publicity and so much personal attention. Obviously the deer did not consider his plight a serious one at any time and he escaped from it when he wanted to which was as soon as he got thoroughly disgusted with furnishing a Roman holiday for a curious mob. We would give a dollar to know just what the deer thinks of strange animals that can show so much concern over the imagined trouble of a quadruped of his genus and still have that incomprehensible eagerness to turn him into venison at the first opportunity. It might take us down a peg or two if we could know an experienced deer's opinion of us."

Observing that "the recalcitrant buck received more publicity than the crime wave" the ROANOKE WORLD-NEWS concludes that "not since the baby gorilla lost his fight with pneumonia in the Washington Zoo has an animal received such attention," the DAYTON DAILY NEWS draws the lesson: "It's willingness to suffer so long the

JUST A DRUG BILL
A strange document in old court archives at Heckington, Lincolnshire, England, is a medicine bill of fifty-five closely written columns, filed by an apothecary for collection.

The bill lists purchases of one Samuel Jessup, an eccentric old Englishman, who in the last years of his life tried to satisfy an abnormal craving for all kinds of medicine.

Between 1791 and 1816, this bill shows Jessup bought 40,000 bottles of medicine, besides countless thousands of powders and pills. During 1814, the bill shows he bought 51,190 pills, almost 1,000 a week.

Jessup died at sixty-five. The court records do not disclose whether his life was cut short or was lengthened by the excessive use of medicines.

There is evidence that this greatest of Latin poets was not Latin but Celt! He wrote an imperishable epic of war, but he was never a soldier.

1784—The first daily newspaper in the U. S. made its initial appearance. It was the American Daily Advertiser of Philadelphia, an outgrowth of the weekly Pennsylvania Packet and General Advertiser published by David C. Claypoole and John Dunlop. Price: 4 pence a copy. (First newspaper in the U. S., of course, was Publick Occurrences, printed in Boston, 1689-90). Today there are about 2,400 dailies in the U. S., about 21,000 newspapers published less frequently.

1775—3,000 French residents of New Arcadia, in Nova Scotia, suspected of disloyalty, were exiled by order of George II of England, and their houses, cattle and lands were confiscated. It was the story of one of the exiles, Evangeline Labretche, which Longfellow used as the theme for his classic poem, Evangeline. Beginning

This is the forest primeval. The mumbling pines and the hemlocks. Bearded with moss, and in garments green, indistinct in the twilight. Stand like Druids of old, with voices that rest on their bosoms.

Loud from its rocky caverns, the deep-voiced neighboring ocean Speaks, and in accents disconsolate answers the wail of the forest. Etc.

Though Evangeline is based on fact, it is obviously patterned after Goethe's "The Sorrowful and the Frenzied" and the "The Wanderer." As every school child knows, Evangeline was separated from Gabriel the day after they were affianced by the exiling of the colony. For many a year thereafter she wandered from place to place trying to find him. When she had grown old in her hopeless quest and had become a sister of mercy in Philadelphia, she visited an almshouse to minister to a dying victim of pestilence, discovered Gabriel. As he tried to whisper her name, death closed his lips.

All was ended now, the hope, the fear, and the sorrow. All the aching heart, the restless, unsatisfied longing. All the deep dull pain, and constant anguish of patience!

And, as she pressed once more the useless hand to her bosom, Meekly she bowed her own, and murmured, "Father, I thank thee."

Still stands the forest primeval, but far away from its shadow, side by side, in their nameless graves, the lovers are sleeping.

Joseph McCormick and H. Phillips Stone were returned winners in the Democratic primary election for city council, a check-up of the return sheets shows today. There never was any question of McCormick's victory as he led all the way. In the case of Stone it took all the precincts to show who had won. With six precincts missing A. R. ## WILL DELVE INTO PROFITS IN MILK

Milk Situation May Get Attention From State Legislators In Special Session

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Sept. 21.—Revived after several months' inactivity, the joint legislative milk investigating committee today planned a hearing within the next 10 days to clear up the chaotic milk situation in Eastern Pennsylvania.

Armed with the power of subpoena,
the committee has thrown its efforts behind the power of federal authorities desirous of obtaining possession of books and record of eastern milk distributors, especially those in the Philadelphia milk shed.

Probe Profits
"The purpose of the investigation is to find out the profits made by the distributors and the reason for such a large spread between the price paid to producers and that paid by consumers," Senator Clarence J. Buckman, Bucks, committee chairman, asserted.

"The code suggested for approval by the U. S. government has been promulgated by distributors and their intermediaries. The code purports to fix the price to be paid farmers and fix the price to be paid by consumers without any investigation of the profits made by distributors."

While the primary purpose of the investigation is to obtain information for the drafting of legislation, Buckman pledged the committee's support to federal authorities who are attempting to draft a satisfactory milk code.

Special Attorneys
The investigators have acquired the services of Special Attorney General Charles Klein, Philadelphia, and William Brennan, Philadelphia investigator. John A. McSparran, secretary of agriculture, and W. J.
Hagar, his assistant, have assured the committee of their support.

Because the milk trouble is confined largely to Eastern Pennsyvania, it is likely the committee will hold the majority of its meetings in Philadelphia, starting within 10 days. By this time it is expected the books of distributors, who have been reluctant to surrender them, will be subpoenaed.

If sufficient data have been obtained before Gov. Gifford Pinchot summons the General Assembly into extraordinary session this fall, milk legislation may receive some attention.

Pays $25 Fine For Evading Officers On Quarantine Duty

Arrest Is Made As Result Of Attempt To Evade Inspection At Leesburg

On a charge of having failed to allow inspection of his truck load of green stuff, at the state quarantine station on the Perry Highway near Leesburg, a Farrell man was arrested and required to pay a fine of $25 and costs.

The quarantine officers report that when the driver appeared with his truck load of peppers and other green stuff, he was asked to wait a short time, while other traffic was allowed to pass. Instead the driver backed up, turned around and left.
He was later apprehended, and a charge made against him by the officers.

Robbery Attempted At Quimby Home

Telephone Is Cut So That The Authorities Could Not Be Notified

Answering a call about 1:15 this morning, the police found that an attempt at robbery had been made at the home of Mrs. Anna L. Quimby, 304 Glen-More Boulevard, shortly before that.

The robber had broken a window on the rear porch of the home and unlocked it, jimmying the window open to gain admittance to the first floor of the home.

After gaining entrance, the robber cut the telephone wire and had ransacked a writing desk, securing about thirty cents.

Mrs. Quimby heard the robber at work and called from the upstairs asking, who was there. The robber answered "This is Sam," then made his escape. The police searched the district but found no suspicious characters in the vicinity.

supposed pangs of captivity and the irksome stares of thousands of visitors disturbs some of the popular notions about animals caged in zoos. As long as the deer was eating regularly and the would-be rescuers did not make themselves too obnoxious, it seemed perfectly content with its new lot. Easy security has kept many a man, too, from a dash for freedom. When everything is safe and sure and sufficient why adventure for uncertainty? So felt many of us a few years ago. Depression drove us, like the poet's man who lost fortune and found himself to a better sense of values.
As an object lesson the deer episode justifies the effort of its human participants."

The nationwide interest in the plight of the deer is a credit to hu-volunteer saviors had kept out of it, the happy release might have been effected long before it was."

Police while assisting a step-father to locate his step-daughter last night, found her with William Mil-rested both Miller and the girl. The girl was discharged but Miller is be-

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world like punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.
For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.
If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels.
Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing
when it comes to making the bile flow freely.
But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name label. Recent a substitute. Best drug

Last week alone, 12,700 people told us "Your new Gulf gas is a real value"

"Higher anti-knock" . . . "more power" . . . "quicker starting" . . .
that is what motorists are telling us about the new and better Good Gulf
Gasoline.

They have tried it themselves . . .
and they like it!

In just one week 12,700 of these motorists sat down and wrote letters telling us about their experiences with Gulf's great new motor fuel.

And here is what some of them said:

"Made the knock in my motor disappear like a magician's handkerchief!" . . . "Power? Oh, boy! It takes me up hills like a shot out of a gun"
... "Fired at the first touch of the starter" and "As smooth a pickup as you ever saw" . . . That's what they are saying about Gulf's latest and greatest achievement

... That new and better Good Gulf
Gasoline!

Try it today. You'll get more power, more miles and more value for your money! . . . Stop where you see the "sign of the Orange Disc."

New Jersey Will Become Center Of Financial Section

Stock Exchange May Move Into New Jersey, Plans Are Now Under Way

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—So tremendous has been the response of members of the New York Stock Exchange to the proposal that the financial center be transferred to New Jersey that the organization committee announced Wednesday that the plan would definitely be put into effect.

The organization committee of the New Jersey Stock Exchange as the new trading center will be called, has received 942 acceptances to dates.

More are arriving in every mail from the 1,575 members of the New York Exchange to whom membership in the new group is restricted.

In deciding definitely on the move into New Jersey the stock exchange follows the action of the New York Mining Exchange which today announced that on Monday it would move from its present quarters to the Arcade building, Journal Square, Jersey City.

In a last effort to defeat the city tax on gross earnings of brokerage houses and the 4-cent-a-share tax on stock transfers, which led to plans to move the securities market to another state, 60,000 members of exchange firms signed a petition to Mayor John P. O'Brien asking him to veto the measures.

Can't Sell Gold Articles Abroad Through Mails

No Articles Can Be Mailed For Purpose Of Selling Gold Content

BY ARTHUR G. WINNER

Special Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 20.—

If Uncle Sam has anything to say about it, no articles will be mailed out of New Castle "for the purpose of selling their gold content abroad."

The post office department has instructed Postmaster Lake S. McNab to give careful scrutiny to packages received for delivery abroad. The postmaster may, without authority from the treasury department, receive for such delivery articles with gold-content such as spectacle frames, collar buttons, necktie pins, cuff links, knives, gold-plated pencils and the like. The treasury has ruled that the gold-content of such articles is usually small.

At the same time, however, under a postal order Postmaster McNab "must satisfy himself that the articles mentioned are not being sent for the purpose of selling the gold content abroad."

This order has been issued in an effort to prevent violation of President Roosevelt's gold embargo. Persons wishing to mail abroad articles containing gold of types other than the articles mentioned above must obtain special permission from the treasury department through the postmaster.

Ask Eckerd's Cut Rate and New Castle Drug Co. or any live druggist about this wonderful prescription of a doctor who has studied the treatment of piles for years and remember this—no matter what kind of piles you have or how long you have had them or how stubborn or severe—one bottle will show you the easy clean way to be rid of them without cutting, suppositories or salves, or money back—ask for Hem-Roid.

Coal Miners Are Still On Holiday

Second Week Of Pennsylvania Tie-up At Frick Mines Is Started

(International News Service)

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Sept. 21.—

Pennsylvania's bituminous coal "holiday" in the Fayette-Westmoreland-Allegheny county fields entered its second week today with the stereotyped, word-of-mouth order, "no work today," being spread among the striking miners.

Originally called as a protest against the long-delayed soft coal code, which now bears presidential signature, the "holiday" has been extended with the avowed purpose of determining the attitude of the H. C. Frick Coke Company, traditionally anti-union, which was not represented at the code negotiations in Washington.

Meanwhile reports of an impending invasion by the Pennsylvania pickets of the adjacent West Virginia field were met by challenging reports, indicating that state police and deputies are being mobilized just south of the West Virginia line to prevent interference with operations in that state.

More than 2,000 miners who had voted to return to the Westmoreland county pits hastily abandoned their plans when 8,000 striking workers picketed highways and persuaded the would-be workers to either join the picket lines or return to their homes.

The Allegheny county field likewise remained idle, with the miners picketing mine entrances and refusing to go back to work despite issuance of a statement by union officials calling upon the workers to resume their jobs pending definite decision on labor contracts now being worked out.

Queer Regulations For Early Schools

Pupils Had Some Real Work To Do Back In The Days Of 1854

(International News Service)

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Sept. 21.—

Curious customs in vogue many score years ago shortly after adoption of the free school system by the legislature in 1854 are revealed in an old copy of the "rules and regulations of the free or public schools in the borough of Allentown."

The copy is now in possession of William H. Rodgers, secretary of the Allentown school board.

The rules were adopted shortly after passage of the public school bill and were revised in 1854.

At the time of their adoption, admission to the public schools was granted only upon application to the school directors. School sessions were to be opened in the morning with the singing of a hymn, repeating of the Lord's prayer, a reading in the new testament and at least once a week the recitation of the ten commandments.

Each male pupil was to memorize a "piece" and declaim once a week. Every grammar school pupil was required to write a composition once a week.

The pupils were given a 15-minute recess each morning and afternoon "if the scholars behaved themselves well." Teachers were required to be present in their rooms and have them warm before the opening of the schools.

There were many other details, rules and customs which the teachers were required to explain to the pupils at least once a week.

Tramp—Lady, have you a piece of cake handy, to give to a poor man who hasn't had a bite of anything for two days?

Lady—Cake? Why, isn't bread good enough for you?

Tramp—Ordinarily, yes ma'am, but this is my birthday and I wish to celebrate a little.

Daring Plot Uncovered In Kansas To Kidnap Member Of Governor's Family

SOUGHT RELEASE OF SIX CONVICTS

(International News Service)

TOPEKA, Kans., Sept. 21.—A daring plot of the underworld to kidnap a member of Gov. Alfred Landon's family to hold as hostage for the parole of six convicts, said to be members of the notorious Wilbur Underhill gang, was revealed today by the governor.

A heavy guard was stationed over members of the official family and the governor cancelled all speaking engagements when the plot was revealed three weeks ago by a former inmate of the state prison at Lansing, who had been free only a few days.

An effort of officers to trap members of the kidnap ring at a farm house in Oklahoma failed, it was revealed. The members of the abduction gang apparently had learned their plan had reached official ears and had fled before officers reached the scene.

Police were deluged with scores of telephone calls as the cats began to disappear, but on the other hand a lot of sleepy-eyed residents are smiling with satisfaction over the disappearance of the usual midnight cacophony on back fences.

Davis Trial Is Delayed

Case In Adjournment Until Monday; Points To Be Argued

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—Although trial of U. S. Senator James J. Davis, of Pennsylvania, on charges of violating the federal laws relating to lotteries was in adjournment today until Monday, counsel was scheduled to meet with Judge Johnson Hayes in Chambers.
A motion by the defense to exclude reference to the alleged lottery conducted for the benefit of the Loyal Order of Moose, of which Davis is director-general, will be argued at the counsel meeting.
At yesterday's session, defense counsel fought attempts to link the Pennsylvania senator with purchase and distribution of alleged lottery tickets distributed under the guise of admission tickets to charity dances conducted by the fraternal organization.
James W. Reid, secretary of a Scranton, Pa., printing company testified 26,000,000 tickets were ordered and delivered to Bernard C. McGuire, a New York promoter who last year pleaded guilty to violating the lottery laws and was sentenced to a year and a day in prison.
Donald F. Stewart, editor of the Moose magazine testified that although the magazine mentioned the charity balls there was no reference to prizes in connection with them.

Chancellor Made Dictator Of Austria

Now Has Almost As Many Portfolios As Held By Mussolini

(International News Service)
VIENNA, Sept. 21.—Confronted with a grave political crisis, Chancellor Engelbert Dollfuss has made himself virtual dictator of Austria by a drastic reorganization of his cabinet, according to an official announcement today.
Basing his move on elimination of political parties, Dollfuss, already chancellor, foreign minister and minister of agriculture, took over the defense and public safety ministries.
This gives Dollfuss almost as many portfolios as are held by Premier Mussolini, whose aid he sought in battling attempts to "Hitlerize" Austria.

Inequities Shown In Administration Hiring-Firing Policy

"Political Drag" Seems To Make Difference In Matter Of Who Holds Jobs

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
Special Washington Correspondent
New Castle News
WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 21.—A glaring example of the inequities in the Administration's hiring and firing policy claimed attention here today.
Orders were issued to dismiss several hundred married employees of the Post Office Department in various parts of the country. Their husbands or wives also have government jobs. So they are being fired in accordance with a decision by Attorney General Cummings that before other workers are discharged one member of each married couple working for the government must first be stricken from the list.
In effect, the Attorney General placed the Administration on record as opposing federal employment for more than one member of any family. But this policy is apparently disregarded when "political drag" enters the picture. Consider, for instance, the family of Thomas Walker Page, vice chairman of the Tariff Commission.
Mr. Page draws $11,000 a year from Uncle Sam. A few weeks ago he got one of his daughters named to the public relations branch of the Home Loan Bank at remuneration of $2000 a year. The other day he got a job in the public relations branch of the NRA for another daughter at a salary in the neighborhood of $2000 annually. Three members of this family group draw approximately $15,000 a year, while low-paid supporters of other families are fired because their wives or husbands, as the case may be, also make a living by serving the government.

Suggests Milkshed Hearing Be Held In Pittsburgh, Pa.

Congressman Faddis, Of Waynesburg Institutes Move To Hold Hearing In Pittsburgh

(International News Service)
WAYNESBURG, Pa., Sept. 21.—Congressman Charles L. Faddis today instituted a movement to bring the public hearing on the Pittsburgh milkshed code to Pittsburgh.
"The hearing for the new Philadelphia milkshed was held in Philadelphia," Faddis said, "and I think the Pittsburgh hearing should be held in Pittsburgh."
At present the Pittsburgh hearing is slated to be held in Washington.
Faddis charged the present setup "appears to be a bit of political play on the part of big milk producers." He explained that he did not think smaller concerns could be adequately represented at a hearing in Washington.

Fear Violence In Strike Of Drivers

Seek To Move $75,000,000 Worth Of Merchandise In Philadelphia

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 21.—Violence was feared today as interstate trucking operations were resumed under an ultimatum banning disorders issued by Superintendent of Police Joseph LeStrange to Frank P. McGlone, organizer of the truck drivers' strike.
McGlone agreed to co-operate with LeStrange in an effort to move about $75,000,000 worth of merchandise tied up by the strike but truck operators expressed the fear the union organizer could not hold his men in check.
Under the ultimatum laid down by LeStrange, the trucking business must be allowed to proceed in an orderly fashion, although picketing will be permitted. LeStrange warned that any violence will result in police intervention for the protection of drivers and property.
Charles D. Barnes, federal mediator, meanwhile continued his conferences with strikers and operators. Department of justice agents were also investigating the strike particularly as it affected interstate commerce.

O'CONNELL TO SEE HIS SUSPECTED KIDNAPERS

Police May Have Kidnaping Gang

Five Men And Two Women In Custody On Murder And Robbery Charges

O'CONNELL PARTIALLY IDENTIFIES PAIR

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—John J. O'Connell, Jr., scion of a politically powerful Albany family, today was to view again five men and two women seized as his suspected kidnapers.

As the seven, arrested in raids here and in Westchester county, were paraded before him in the police lineup, authorities were confident he would clinch the partial identification he made last evening of two of the men.

They were Leonard Scarnici, 27, of Mt. Kisco, N. Y., and Anthony Reimo, 23, New York. Young O'Connell, rushed here from Albany after the band was rounded up, was unable positively to identify the two.

But after looking at them for five minutes at the police college, he told police they "resembled two of the men" who abducted him from his front of his home on July 7.

To Solve Other Crimes
Meantime, authorities promised solution of four bank robberies, as many murders, and possible establishment of a link with the Lindbergh kidnaping by roundup of the seven whose arrest was termed "the richest haul in years."

While detectives worked feverishly to link the gang definitely with the O'Connell kidnaping, all were held on serious charges involving a long series of robberies and murders.

In addition to Scarnici and Reimo,

KOPPEL SHOWS KEEN CONTEST

Wm. Blythe Gets Republican Berth For Burgess, White Nominated By Democrats

(Special To The News)
KOPPEL, Sept. 21.—Keyed up by weeks of campaigning, 319 Koppel voters, one of the largest votes to be polled in this community in recent years, trooped to the poles on Tuesday for another primary election.

Koppel for the past few weeks has been the scene of many interesting contests, especially in battles for offices of Burgess, school director, council, assessor, tax collector, and constable. Of the total vote, 281 were Republicans while the remaining 38 were Democrats.

In the Burgess race, Oscar Philipp, the present holder of that office did not run for re-election. William S. Blythe, a former Burgess here was nominated on the Republican ticket with 132 votes with Andrew White running second with 88 votes. Cairns received 22 votes while Max Eider received 40. On the Democratic ticket, White was nominated with 20 votes, Cairns running second with 8. Blythe received 4 Democrat votes.

In the council race in which the seats of Joseph Sobek, Herman Wittmers, and Charles Nardone were to be filled ended with the Republicans nominating Harold Marshall, Charles Nardone, and Frank Cynkar with 200, 196 and 152 respectively. Wittmers had 78 votes and Wetzel had 133. On the Democratic ballot, Marshall, Nardone, and Wetzel were nominated with 25, 24, and 17 votes respectively. Cynkar received 11 votes. Sobek was not running for re-election.

Two school directors were to be elected with Charles Sherman and Fleming Fowkes running for a second term. On the Republican ballot, Dr. Alfred Colazzi was nominated with 158 votes while Bruner was the second nominee with 132 votes. Fowkes was third with 110. Sherman fourth with 35. On the Democratic ticket, Dr. Colazzi also was nominated polling 20 votes. Wilbur White was second with 12 while Bruner had 9, Fowkes 8, and Sherman 2.

In the two way race for tax collector, Michael Petti, the present holder of that office, received the Republican and Democratic nomination with 163 and 19 respectively. His opponent Richard Gasser got 98 Republican votes and 11 Democrat.

What proved to be the most interesting and closest battle was for assessor with Edward Lananah winning both nominations by close margins. On the Republican ticket he polled 103 votes while Henry Massa got 101. Lew Peirce polled 64 votes. On the Democratic party ballot, Lananah received 14 votes while Peirce polled 12.

In the constable contest, W. D. Rossi, the present constable, was easily nominated on both tickets with 195 Republican votes and 23 Democratic votes. Tony Ferrigno and John Howlka received 57 and 25 Republican votes respectively.

S. P. Weber was nominated on the Republican ticket with not a dissenting vote. He polled 209 votes. He received the Democrat nomination too with 5 votes. Frank Little and Edward Hoover were the second nominees with 1 vote each.

Other Republican nominations were: Auditor, Joe Weidman, 29 votes; Judge of election, Fred Doeller, 45 votes; Inspector of elections, Louis DeSanzo, 34 votes. On the Democrat party ticket: Auditor, J. V. Barlie, Joe Weidman, and Cal Rylott were tied with one each; Judge of Election, L. DeSanzo, 2 votes; and Inspector of elections, Frank Cleary, 28 votes.

Public works officials declined to state this interpretation was official, but the sums allocated would scarcely be utilized on posts intended to be abandoned.

New Castle And Ellwood Prepare For Game

Passing Attack Will Be Feature

Head Coach Phil Bridenbaugh Will Stick With First Game Lineup

Each Team Holds Victory In First Games Played; Expect Big Crowd

New Castle High School football team will play Ellwood City High here Friday night at 8:30 o'clock under the flood lights of Taggart Field. The game looms as one of the best on the 1933 card. Ellwood has defeated Union 19 to 0, and New Castle has upset Braddock 26 to 0. Both teams will fight hard for a victory Friday.

Head Coach Phil Bridenbaugh is going to stand pat on the lineup that started the Braddock game, with Hitchen and Fleming at the ends, Shellenbarger at the tackle, Raskowski and Sorio at the guards and Howley at center. The backfield will be composed of Ridley at quarter, Lane and James at halves and Komic at fullback. The only possibilities to start the game other than the boys named are Humphrey in place of Sorio at guard or Nickum in place of Lane at a halfback post.

Ellwood Fine Team
Ellwood City will bring a crack-jack team here. The big Blue and White eleven harbors a secret desire to overcome the New Castle "Husks" and take another victory. This may be the year. Benedict has a powerful team. A clever forward passing attack and some good running backs, including a colored boy by the name of Beane at right-half who tips the beam at around 200 and can throw a football like a bullet. Luxembourg at fullback for Ellwood City may also cause New Castle plenty of trouble.

One bright feature of the New Castle team is the reserve line. Remember that stand they made last week on the one-inch line, when they held Braddock High to four downs and took the ball, well Coach Bridenbaugh has not forgotten it, and you can bet that "Bridy" feels safer now when he has to put his reserves in the game. He knows that the so-called scrubs can take it, and he also knows just what they can do under fire. A great satisfaction to any coach.

Respects Line
Coach Benedict is smart enough to know that he will not have much chance to get his backfield men through that big starting New Castle line. The only action then is to try a forward passing attack. "We will have some foolers, ready for New Castle," said Coach Benedict and Assistant Coach Mike Farre nodded his head approvingly. "New Castle will have something new for Ellwood City this week, something that we have never tried before," said Head Coach Phil Bridenbaugh as he discussed the game today with the writer.

Neither "Bridy" Klee nor Thomas would disclose what this surprise attack would be, but it must be good. New Castle has held several secret practices this week.

Ellwood Practices Here
Ellwood City High squad practiced under the floodlights at Taggart Field last night, a fine gesture on the part of New Castle, in granting their opponents permission to get themselves acquainted with the lights.

"New Castle beat us last year, but it will be different this year" and with that statement Coach "Gansy" Benedict walked away. He is plain as day in taking the measure of New Castle. Friday night, Bridenbaugh is equally as anxious to again defeat Ellwood City. It looks like a large evening of football.

Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner is making arrangements to handle a big crowd tomorrow night. It was a nice turnout for the opening battle, it will be bigger for the Ellwood game.

Union To Play At Evans City

Coach Dave Boyd Has Union High Team In Fine Shape For Evans City Game

Union high school football team will go to Evans City Friday afternoon for a game with Evans City high. According to Faculty Manager Burkhardt the game will start at 4:30 o'clock daylight time.

Coach Dave Boyd has been going over the mistakes of the Ellwood City game and has them fairly well ironed out. A scrimmage session yesterday afternoon put the players in fine fettle.

Union defeated Evans City last year at Union high field 13 to 0 and hope to repeat this year. This will be the first game of the season for the Evans City team.

Captain George will play the fullback post for Union Friday afternoon it was indicated by Coach Boyd. Gierlach has been filling in at the vacant tackle job in fine style and will be a valuable addition to the team.

Burkhardt the new faculty manager at Union is the former Penn State baseball star. Burkhardt was the mainstay of the Lions on the mound. He was one of the best pitchers that Penn State has ever had.

Radiators Win Game By Forfeit

Umpire Riley Awards Third Game Of Mushball Series To Radiator Team

Umpire-In-Chief Earl Riley waited a sufficient length of time last night at the Radiator Field for the East Side Merchants to resume play following a small shower and when the Merchants did not take the field awarded the National Radiators a 9 to 0 victory.

The series to date stands two for the East Side Merchants and one for the Radiators. The next game will be played Friday night at the Rose Avenue Field. The Merchants need but one more victory to take the East Side Mushball league championship.

The score of the game last night was 6 to 0 in favor of the Radiators in the fourth inning when it began to rain. The game was called for a very short time and it cleared up. Umpire Riley called for play to resume. The Radiators were the only ones on the field and there was nothing to do but award them the game.

Mauri did the pitching for the Radiators and was limiting the Merchants to very few bingles, three in fact. The Merchants used Michaels to start the game and he was taken out in the second inning in favor of their ace Howdy Gresham.

It is very unfortunate that the championship game had to end as it did. Riley will be upheld by President Walther in his decision.

Race Events At Fair Are Fast And Hard Fought

Running Races Prove A New And Interesting Attraction Of The Fair

MULE RACE ALSO DRAWS ATTENTION

Plenty of sport of the kings, horse racing, was furnished the immense throngs of fair and race goers Wednesday afternoon at the track of the New Castle Fair. In addition to three fast harness horse events, a trot, a pace and a stake race, there were three running horse race events and a mule race. The running horse race events were something new for the local track and fair and made a decided hit.

The 2:25 race was the first of the afternoon and started shortly after one o'clock and there was a full afternoon of race events. After the harness race events there was a parade of fine cattle and high bred horses of various types.

Harry Goll was the starter, the judges William Hartwell, C. P. Byers and Harry Alexander and John Brinton and Joe Rick, the timers. The races were started in good form that pleased both the horsemen and the spectators and the result was fast and well contested events.

Opening Event Fast
Henry V. bay gelding of W. M. Garrett of Pulaski was the winner in the 2:25 trot in three straight heats. Fast time was made in each of the heats. The first heat was closely contested by the race winner and Volio Dillon, entry of D. C. Armstrong, of Warren, O. The second heat was exceptionally well contested. Volio Dillon fighting it out at the half and Henry V. Sister McElwain and Volio Dillon were bunched in the finish, which was spectacular. Henry V. finishing first, Volio Dillon second and Sister McElwain third.

In the 2:15 pace Mountainair Direct and Billie L. Direct divided first honors, the former taking the first two heats and the latter the third. The first heat saw a close finish between these horses with the honor going to the former.

In the third harness event, Taylor Volo took the first two heats but in the third Rita McElwain came from behind in a convincing manner and took the heat. This was the best event of the afternoon.

Running Races
The three running race events gave the local fair goers a thrill that has never before been experienced on the local track and the crowd liked them. Miss Thompson, a daughter of John H. Thompson, of Uniontown was one of the riders

GOLF FACTS NOT THEORIES

By ALEX. J. MORRISON
Central Press Association

SLIGHT WEAVING OF BODY HELPS START OF SWING

Number 101

ALEX. MORRISON says: Most shots are missed even before the backswing is started.

The player may not realize this, but a check on the performance of the average golfer will make it clear.

After gripping the club, placing his feet, looking along the intended line of play, Mr. Average Player will then hold his club on the ground behind the ball for some time. The time depending on his uncertainty about the outcome of the shot.

During this seemingly harmless pause for the purpose of "concentrating", tension takes hold of nearly every muscle and joint in his body and once gripped by tension he stands little chance of executing a successful swing.

A slight weaving of the body will save off this tension.

in each of the events and had the support of the crowd. They were all fast. In the first, a five eighth mile dash Hilda A. was the winner and was in the lead all the time, but was pushed hard. Bart Harnock was the winner in the second event, a three quarter mile dash, while Shaktup won handily in the final event, an event of a mile and seven yards.

There was also a mule race, in which the winner was Honey Bunno. These mules demonstrated that they could put on some real speed.

Another fine program of harness and running horse races is being staged again this afternoon. A summary of the races follows:

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Two upsets occurred in the first match play round in the annual golf tournament for the Berthelien cup at the Huntingdon Valley Country Club, Philadelphia yesterday.

Fritz Stiefel of Wheeling won one up over Dorothy Quier of Reading and Mrs. Norman R. Rood of Wilmington, Del., beat Mrs. Clarence H. Vanderbeck, Philadelphia, three and one.

Judging from the enthusiasm of the rail birds and spectators in the grandstand at the Fair ground yesterday the runners caught their fancy. The spectators were up and roaring for their favorite to come through.

Babe Ruth will go to the hill for the Yankees in their final 1933 game. He will pitch against the Red Sox, October 1. Babe started his career with the Yankees as a hurler.

Jack Tidball, Vines Los Angeles beat Ellsworth Vines of the U. S. Davis cup team in a quarter finals match of the Pacific Southwest tennis meet yesterday at Los Angeles.

Vines took the first set 6-1. Tidball steadied and took the next two sets and match 6-4, 7-5.

Legion Of Honor Sponsors Match At Muncy Course For Their Friends

In connection with the match to be played Saturday at the Municipal course by the members of the Legion of Honor, the committee in charge is sponsoring a Blind Bogey tournament for their members and any Masonic friends who may care to take part.

Play will be started at 1:30 and will last through the afternoon. Members of the Legion of Honor will be privileged to bring their friends, the committee stated today, and a large crowd of golfers is expected to play. Service Division members are particularly invited to take part.

Eight Boxing Bouts Tonight

Rain Forces Calling Off Of Last Night's Bouts At Fair

ADAMO AMONG BOXERS TONIGHT

Old Man Rain played a wet role last night at the New Castle fair ground and it was necessary to postpone from last night until tonight, eight boxing bouts. Providing rain ceases sometime today, eight good scraps will be staged in front of the grandstand, commencing at 8:30 p. m. D. S. T.

All of the boxers arrived at 6 p. m. last time and just before they were to weigh in Old Man Rain, instead of being a threat became a reality and the ring was soaked. After waiting 30 minutes for the rain to cease it was decided that the best thing to do would be to call off last night's bouts and to go through with tonight's calendar of bouts.

There are some excellent amateur athletic union battlers on tonight's card. Joey Evans of Ellwood City will make his first appearance here against Johnny Swanton of Youngstown.

Tony Adamo, the wallower from the South Side will meet Mike Olerchek, a Springdale, Pa., boy who likes to dish out punches every second.

Tony Taleric of Beaver Falls and Mickie Devlin of Springdale are listed for action and it should prove one of the best bouts ever held in this city.

Other bouts scheduled follows:

Heroes-Goats In Big League

(International News Service)
The Hero—Alvin Crowder, Washington, Held St. Louis to five hits and moved the Senators to within a hair of the American League pennant as the Senators triumphed, 13 to 5.

The Goat—Carl Fischer, Detroit. Held the Athletics to five hits, while the Tigers got eight off Lefty Grove, but Philadelphia won anyway, 2 to 1.

Mrs. Gnaggs—What are you doing with that string tied around your finger.

Mr. G.—You had me tie it there to remember to mail a letter for you.

Mrs. G.—And did you mail it?

Mr. G.—You forgot to give it to me.

Senators Need One More Game To Clinch Flag

If Washington Wins One More Game They Will Have 1933 Pennant

YANKEES PROVE QUITE STUBBORN

By COPELAND C. BURG
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—Those New York Yankees, like a bride sending hubby off to work, insist on lingering just a little longer.

They hate to kiss that 1933 American League pennant goodbye forever.

But even though the disappointed New Yorkers hung on tooth and nail yesterday by beating Chicago's disappointing White Sox again, while Washington was taking one from the St. Louis Browns, the thing can't continue much longer.

Need One Game
A single decimal point is all that keeps the Yankees from knowing they can't win out, and a single game is all the Senators need to insure them the bunting. So the Nats can win their own race by beating the St. Louis Browns again today, or they can continue the suspense by waiting until the idle Yanks resume play and ultimately drop a contest.

New York is seven and a half games behind and would have to win all of their remaining eight games, while Washington lost all of its remaining seven games to upset the Senators.

Al Crowder put the Nats within a whisker of the title by turning back St. Louis, 13 to 5. He refused to budge an inch after the Browns took five hits, Washington putting the affair in the ice box in the third inning with a hitting orgy that sent over seven runs.

Danny MacFarland toyed with the White Sox, keeping them scoreless for six innings and finally rolled it away for the Yankees, 5 to 3. Old Red Faber and a couple of other Chicago hurriers were helpless. Tony Lazzeri got a home run.

Grove Wins 23rd
Lefty Grove recorded his 23rd victory of the season by getting stinging in the tight spots. He gave Detroit eight hits, three more than the Athletics could collect off Carl Fischer, but Philadelphia snatched it, 2 to 1.

Fischer struck out six men, the same as Grove, but the Tiger hurler walked four.

Bill Swift had one of his better days and the best Brooklyn could do with the Pittsburgh hurler was four singles, the Pirates winning, 3 to 0. Beck was far from effective for the Dodgers, Traynor leading the attack against him with four of Pittsburgh's 13 safeties. Lindstrom whacked three hits and so did Grace.

Other clubs were idle.

All-Star Mushball Team Is Selected

Domenick DeCaprio, well known sport fan and all 'ete of the South Side has sent in a list of all-star East Side League mushball players. DeCaprio has seen all of the games and feels that his choices are the best possible in the league.

Richards, Young Yanks, catch; Mazzari, Radiators, third; Crisci, Croton, roving-short; Keder, East Side Merchants, shortstop; Greene, Radiators, second; Kneram, Croton, first; N. Ross, Radiators, left; Sid Lockley, Spencers, center; Mick, Croton, right; Howard Gesham, Jr., East Side Merchants, pitcher. Honorable mention would be given the following: Sumner, Mauri, Rodgers, Augustine, Oakie Ross, Fornatore, Kneram, Anderson, Merando, and El Lockley.

Putting everything behind their efforts to sew up second place as quick as possible, Pittsburgh and Fitcher Bill Swift scored a farewell 3-0 win over the Brooklyn Dodgers. The Pirates outdid their rivals, better than three-to-one, and added half game to their margin over the third-place Chicago Cubs.

Later, the Giants, with most of their stars taking a rest, will open a series with the Brooklyn Dodgers at the Polo grounds.

The magazines print as much good fiction as ever. The only difference is that it's called advertising.

Terry Says That Harmony Helped Giants Win Flag

New York Giants Just Like Big Happy Family, Says Youthful Manager

Bessemer Will Play Saturday At Sharpville

Coach J. H. Frederick Has Squad Of 40 Working Out At Bessemer High

EIGHT VETERANS FROM LAST YEAR

J. H. Frederick starting his sixth year as head football coach at Bessemer High faces the season with a bright outlook for a winning team. Eight lettermen reported with the first call for practice and in addition a group of about 32 others came out for football and therefore Frederick is happy. Bessemer High opens their 1933 season Saturday afternoon at Sharpville. The game will start at 2:30 o'clock.

"We will have a big powerful line this year, but our backfield is light and rather fast," said Frederick today. Bessemer expects to make it tough for the other Class B schools in this section. Last year Bessemer came through with four victories, lost three and tied one. Nothing short of the Class B championship will please Frederick this season.

The Bessemer lineup for Saturday will probably look like this according to Coach Frederick:
Ends—Seltzer and Sankovich.
Tackles—DeArment, Cappezuto, or Hosnik.
Guards—Hulena, Pezdula or De-Nossio.
Center—Slavish.
Quarterback—Henry Marshall.
Left-half—Shoup.
Right-half—Navarro.
Fullback—Frank Clark.
Others who will likely see action in the game are—Panella and W. Shulda.

Big Happy Family
"The team is like one big happy family," Terry said. "My pitchers never complain when I take them out of the game. I wouldn't have a man on my club unless he did exactly what I told him to do. I've never had any trouble with my men off the field."

Terry also mentioned the remarkable pitching and air tight defense which has enabled his Giants to win many battles where there was a dearth of Giants base hits. The player-manager did not have to mention specifically the brilliant pitching of his ace Hubbel, because that has been speaking for itself all season.

Mancuso Is Good
"I don't like to give one player more credit than another," Terry said, "but I do want to say a word for Gus Mancuso. He's a great catcher and I give him a lot of credit for the way he has handled our pitchers."

Terry revealed that all of the Giants regulars including one Bill Terry, first baseman, will be given a rest now that the flag has been clinched.

Three Races At Fair Track Today

Thousands Enjoy Race Diversified Program Wednesday

Six races are carded for this afternoon at the New Castle Fair track and it is likely that the harness horses which like heavy going and the runners who are mudders will rule favorites. A crowded grandstand augmented by rail birds enjoyed the program yesterday afternoon. Racing today is scheduled to start at 2 p. m. D. S. T.

There'll be a 2:34 trot, 2:17 trot and three year old pace and three runnings events. In addition there'll be a mule harness race and a pony dash.

Giants Will Be Welcomed Home

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—Mayor O'Brien and city officials will welcome home the New York Giants, winners of the National League pennant, at city hall today. Bands will play and President Stoneham and Manager Bill Terry of the Giants will speak.

Later, the Giants, with most of their stars taking a rest, will open a series with the Brooklyn Dodgers at the Polo grounds.

Giants Won Flag On Weak Hitting

Sensational Work By Pitching Staff Has Placed The Giants At Top Of Ladder

Washington Pitchers Will Not Have Much Trouble With Giants At Bat

Washington pitchers are far from bad. Stewart, Russell, Burke and Weaver are nobody's chumps when the checks are down. Whitehill is only one of the ranking stars of the year. As for Crowder, it's Walter Johnson's word that he is the best pitcher in baseball, although Mr. Johnson could be very much mistaken about this and it still wouldn't greatly matter. After all, it isn't difficult to stop some hitters who can't seem to start.

Gil Dobie Says Outlook Gloomy

Cornell Coach Comes Through With Annual Statement About Very Light Team

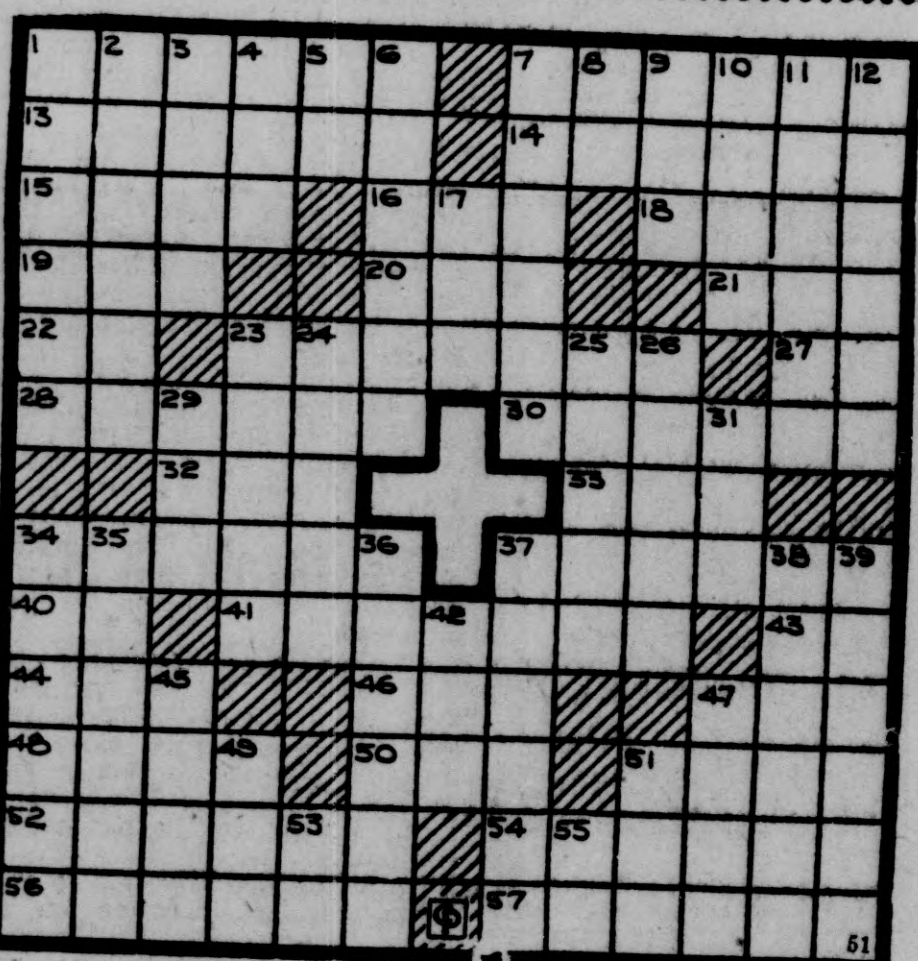

(International News Service) ITHACA, N. Y., Sept. 21.—"Not so hot!" This the way Gilmour Dobie, coach of the Cornell eleven, appraised his season's prospects today after watching his charges during scrimmage the past two days. The big red team is an ironical name this fall, in the opinion of observers. "Gloomy Gil" himself says the men are too light and frail for a college varsity team, and he ought to know, for he has been coaching football for more than thirty years, and his University of Washington eleven did not taste defeat in nine seasons.

"These men won't stand the gaff of our hard schedule," said Dobie. "What I need most is a capable reserve team. But where am I going to find one?" But that's Dobie! Always the tearful little earful.

Elders-Colonials To Play Tonight

Fourth game of the series between the Elder A. C. and Colonial A. C. baseball teams will be played tonight at 6 o'clock daylight time at Elders field, weather permitting. The Colonials are one up on the Elders and hope to take the current series. The Elders will fight hard for victory in tonight's game.

rupts Market; Stocks Are Down 1 To 3 Points(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—The stock market went into another tail spin today with the main body of stocks losing from fractions to more than 3 points.

The heavy wave of selling came right at the opening and while it abated somewhat at the end of the first hour, was quickly resumed once the small amount of short covering had been completed.

Railroad shares were the principal targets for the liquidation with New York Central, Atchafalpa, Union Pacific, and Southern Railway losing from 1 to 3 points.

United States Steel and the other steel shares dipped on heavy selling and lost about a point or more. The motor shares were also under pressure with General Motors and Chrysler giving ground easily.

Utilities were subjected to further pressure along with the rest of the list and Consolidated Gas, American Water Works, and Public Service of N. J., dipped to new lows on the move.

Liquor shares were sold freely with National Distillers, Schenley, and American Commercial Alcohol losing from 1 to about 3 points. The gold mining and metal shares were heavily liquidated by traders endeavoring to salvage some profits.

Commodity markets showed sympathy with wheat off 2 cents a bushel and cotton $1 a bale.

Man Confesses
Two MurdersLouis K. Neu, 25, Tells New Jersey Police He Killed
Two Men

(International News Service)

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Sept. 21.—Picked up for failure to have an automobile owner's license, Louis K. Neu, 25, a seaman, who gave his address as Savannah, Ga., was held today while police checked his admission that he recently had murdered two men.

Neu admitted, in a casual, off-hand manner, he had killed Lawrence N. Sheard, a theater manager, in Paterson, N. J., September 10, and bludgeoned Sheffield Clark, New Orleans business man, to death in the Jung Hotel in New Orleans on September 17.

Neu told police he met Sheard in New York City, visited him in Paterson and went to his apartment on the night of September 10. After both had done considerable drinking, he related, a quarrel broke out. Neu said he killed Sheard with an electric iron, rifled his pockets of $80, packed Sheard's clean clothes and drove off in the victim's car.

He abandoned the car in North Carolina, Neu continued, and went to New Orleans.

There he became acquainted with Clark, he said, and went to the latter's hotel room to seek a loan. According to Neu, Clark refused and Neu beat him to death with a black-jack, rifled his pockets and stole Clark's automobile.

Unnamed Heroes Dare Death to Solve Sleeping Sickness

Three young scientists in St. Louis who conceal their identities, have dared themselves to mosquitoes which already have bitten a sleeping sickness victim, in an effort to find a control for the dread disease. Our artist has depicted how the test is carried out. 1. The insect is allowed to bite the victim. 2. The mosquito is segregated. 3. It is then released to attack the test subjects. Shown are Dr. Hideyo Noguchi, famous Japanese research physician who used himself as a subject for yellow fever experiments and died as a result; John Kissinger, a U. S. Marine who volunteered as an experimental subject in the yellow fever fight in Cuba; and Surgeon General Hugh S. Cummings, under whose direction the battle against sleeping sickness in St. Louis is being waged. Also shown is a tsetse fly, dread carrier of sleeping sickness in Africa. (Central Press)

Byrd Ready for Second Expedition Into Frigid Antarctic

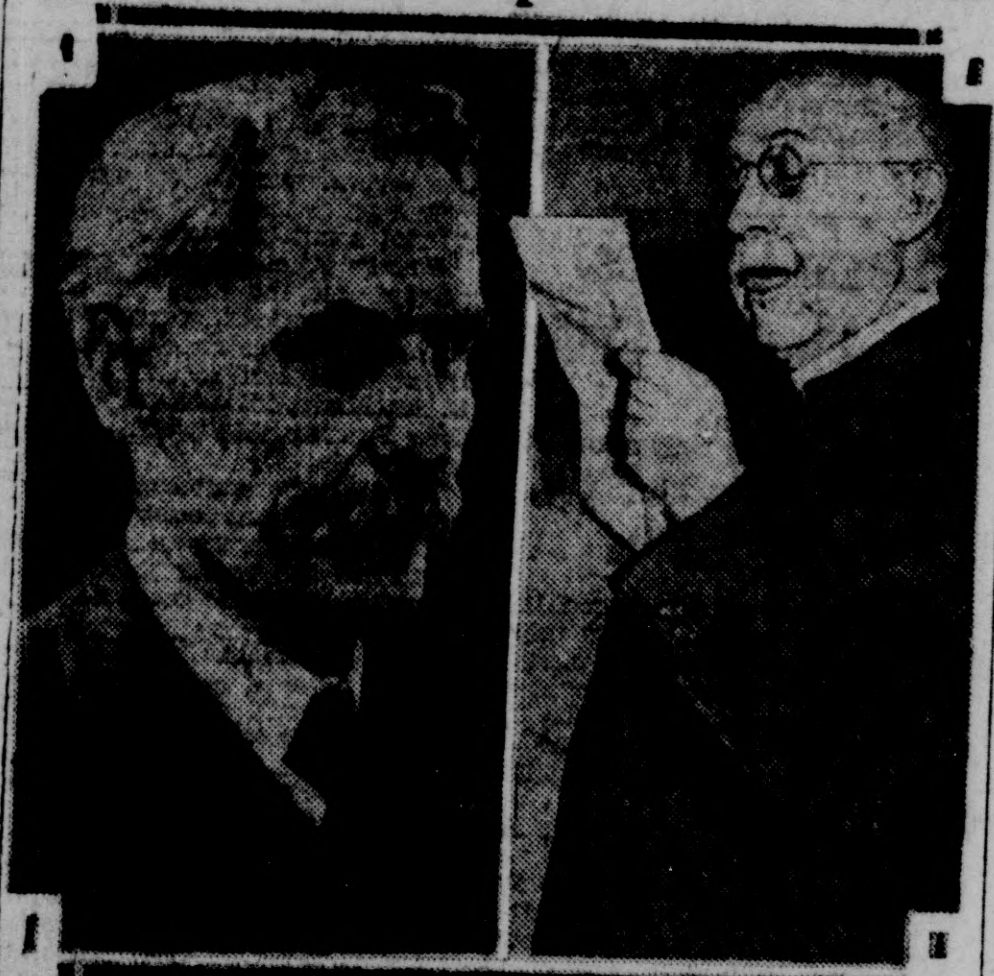

Final arrangements are being made by Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd, well-known explorer, for his second expedition to the Antarctic and Little America, which he discovered and named on his first voyage into the frigid regions. The party will travel as far as possible aboard the Bear, center, and complete the trip by the giant airplane, right. Byrd is shown standing second from right in front of the plane. The expedition is scheduled to start from Boston on Sept. 25. Seventy men will comprise the party.

Mr. and Mrs. George Nelson Page and their baby son are pictured in New York where they announced their renunciation of American citizenship and their determination to embrace Fascism in Italy. Volstead: Let Wets Rule!
Chase: Repeal Vote Null!

While the states vote on repealing Prohibition, Andrew J. Volstead, father of the enforcement act, declined a post on the Minnesota liquor control board saying: "Those who have opposed prohibition have posed as friends of temperance. I am willing to give them a chance to make good. They ought to have a free hand to deal with the matter." Canon William S. Chase, dry leader, declares that the repeal votes by states are unconstitutional and that action will be filed to declare them so. (Central Press)

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Sept. 21.—Prompt action by State Police today nipped in the bud an incipient riot at the Edenborn mine of the H. C. Frick Coke Company, scene of a bloody clash between striking miners and deputies last week.

Rumors, which later proved unfounded, that strikebreakers from Pittsburgh were to be imported this morning resulted in the formation of a picket line, 1,000 strong, on the highway leading to the Edenborn operation at daybreak.

Earl Batch, 34, employee of the Warden Mine near Elizabeth strayed from the picket line into "The Patch." He staggered out, a few moments later, blood streaming from knife wounds about his face and neck, which he said, had been inflicted by several men in "the patch."

Police Quiet Miners
The picket lines at once began an advance toward the patch where armed deputies awaited the attack.

Only the arrival of state police, who came on the run, averted what gave promise of developing into a bloody riot.

The State Police quieted the pickets dissuaded them from advancing on the deputies and restored order within a few moments of their arrival.

Believe Large Counterfeiting Ring Is Broken

Federal Agents in York, Pa., Section Make Complete Haul Of Counterfeiters

THREE ARRESTS HAVE BEEN MADE

(International News Service) YORK, Pa., Sept. 21.—Federal agents today apparently were satisfied they had "hit bottom" in their painstaking probe of a counterfeiting ring which conspired to make millions in the eastern United States. Nine months' intensive work netted three arrests here and the confiscation of materials which agents believe were used to turn out the spurious $10 federal reserve notes that have appeared in several eastern states in recent months. Two of the men arrested here were Nelson and Charles Horn, members of the local engraving firm of Horn-Crone-Horn. The third was Theodore W. Hartzog. All were released under $3,000 bail each for a hearing next month before U. S. Commissioner Horace G. Portz.

Deceptive Plot

Agents described the plot as "the most deceptive ever encountered in the United States." The notes were issued on banks in Philadelphia, Cleveland and Chicago. The department of justice operations indicated the three arrests may be linked with four others in western Pennsylvania, Frank C. Collier, Uniontown, and Penrod J. Spangler, Pittsburgh, were taken into custody while possessing bogus currency. David C. Moore and his wife, of Uniontown, were arrested more than a month ago as alleged distributors for the ring.

Highway Patrolmen At Disadvantage In Stopping Of Autos

Criminals Can Get Drop On Patrolmen, Officers Not Allowed To Draw Guns

(International News Service) CARLISLE, Pa., Sept. 21.—Because State Highway patrolmen cannot approach an automobile with drawn revolver they are at the mercy of drivers, secretary of revenue Leon D. Metzger, explained to Rotary Club members at a luncheon here today. Metzger said three patrolmen have been murdered during the ten years the patrol has been in existence.

"There's a tough job," he stated. "The man behind the wheel, should be a criminal always has the drop on the patrolman. The officer is at the mercy of the man behind the wheel. I ask your consideration for him when you meet him in the performance of his duty."

Kiwanis Get - Together At Field Club Is Success

Kiwanians from seven near and distant cities numbering over 50 came to the New Castle Field Club last night to join with the New Castle club for a rousing inter-club dinner program at which good fellowship reigned supreme with a delicious dinner and fine entertainment ruling side by side with it.

Playing the part of host club, the local Kiwanis organization did itself proud in the excellent program arrangements it provided for the evening. Visitors from Pittsburgh, Beaver Falls, Butler, Canonsburg, Coraopolis and Ellwood City alike, as from Youngstown in the neighboring state of Ohio left satisfied that not for many a day had they spent an evening so enjoyable.

Welcome Them Here

The guests were greeted on behalf of the club by H. Lee Marvin as they arrived at the field club home in the afternoon and early evening hours. Many came during the afternoon to participate in the special golf matches which were sponsored. At dinner, served to nearly 100 persons, President Norman E. Clark welcomed the visiting delegations on the part of the club. Music, furnished by Arch Cubbison's string trio was enjoyed by the clubmen as they dined.

James Mayberry, chairman of Kiwanis' inter-club committee, took charge of the program after greetings had been extended. He introduced the speakers and presented the musicians who performed. Features of the program were the timely address of Kiwanian R. L. Wallace, this city on "Kiwanis and Leadership," the solos by Arthur Chappel, Pittsburgh basso; the readings of Little Catherine Ann Johnston, this city and the vocal solos by William "Billy" Williams, this city.

During the program Chairman Harry L. Gormley, acting for his golf committee, presented Captain Arthur V. Smith, field club pro, who in turn awarded about 12 of the afternoon's best golfers with golf balls as prizes for their showing.

Leaders Not Present

Neither District Governor James Logan nor District Secretary John C. Norton of McKeesport, were able to keep the engagement they had made with the district men because of unforeseen developments, and Lieutenant Governor Myers B. Horner, Washington, Pa., was prevented from coming by an emergency condition which his position as superintendent of Washington schools created.

Lieutenant Governor Frank Finley, Pittsburgh, head of another Kiwanis sub-division, came for the dinner and was introduced by President Clark. Each club's delegation stood as Mr. Clark announced their names. Each had to respond to the introduction with some humorous stunt.

Dr. H. E. Helling, Ellwood City, past lieutenant governor spoke in behalf of the Pennsylvania Kiwanis convention which assembled in Washington, Pa., early in October. The inter-club affair was sponsored by the inter-club committee of which James Mayberry is chairman and Fred C. Wolford and L. A. Haug are members. Handling the golf arrangements were Chairman Gormley, James Deegan and C. M. Englund.

Twenty State Policemen On Scene And Intended Riot Fails To Materialize

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Sept. 21.—Regular prison routine was resumed today at Western Penitentiary for all but a few of the prisoners following a riot scare yesterday which officials believe was dissipated by the hurried arrival of twenty state policemen. Several inmates, suspected ring-leaders of the purported break, were being kept in solitary confinement, with newspapers, radio, cigarettes and visitors barred them.

Warden Stanley Ashe said he had heard rumors of the riot for some time and that the tension became serious Tuesday night. He summoned the state police detail and kept prisoners locked in their cells all day yesterday to prevent disorder.

Prisoner Changes Plea To "Guilty"

Trial Of Joseph Patterson, Apprehended Cracking Safe, Abruptly Ends

After several witnesses had been heard by the commonwealth in the case of Joseph Patterson, charged with larceny, Patterson changed his plea from not guilty to guilty before Judge R. L. Hildebrand at court this morning and the trial ended. Patterson was arrested with Arthur Ketzsch while they were attempting to blow a safe in the New Castle Wall Paper Company's store. They had knocked the combination off the safe, put in a charge of dynamite and were preparing to put off the charge with an electric wire, when they were discovered by Policemen Fred Harlan and captured. Judge R. L. Hildebrand took occasion to compliment Harlan on his fine work, following the plea entered by Patterson. Ketzsch had already entered a plea of guilty. They will be sentenced later.

FAMOUS WAR HERO SEEKING DETROIT JOB

First American Captured By Germans Found In Job Seeking Line

(International News Service) DETROIT, Sept. 21.—"Broke" and in search of work, Sergeant Edgar M. Halyburton, one of America's premier World War heroes, has applied for one of the 5,000 jobs Henry Ford has promised to Wayne county ex-service men.

Looking up at the latest arrival in the seemingly endless line of veterans parading past his desk, Rex Humphrey, Wayne county American Legion commander, was startled to find himself staring into "the face that launched a thousand ships."

"All I want is a job and a chance to get back on my feet," said Halyburton, his famous fighting jaw set, and his eyes as grim as they were in 1917.

Sergeant Halyburton was the first Yank to be captured by the Germans in the World War. The tale of how he faced his vengeful captors and told them to "shoot and be damned," has become a classic of martial legends. A German photographer snapped a picture of him as he defied his captors' demand for information, and later the photograph was smuggled into the United States. It became the inspiration for Cyrus E. Dallin's famous statue used on posters advertising the third liberty loan.

"Captured but not conquered," was the legend beneath the stalwart, iron jawed martial figure. Halyburton has been running a barber shop in Detroit. He told Humphrey that the closing of Detroit banks in the crash of last spring spelled the doom of his business and made it necessary for him to find a job.

Legion officials estimated that about 2,000 of the jobs had been filled last night. Many of the veterans were already at work at the Ford plant in Dearborn. The jobs are being given only to veterans who are residents of Wayne county, and who can show honorable discharge papers.
